Learn the Causes of Depression and How to Overcome it Naturally

During the holiday season songs boldly proclaim, "It's the happiest time of the year." And for many people it is a happy time. But, oddly enough, the months of December and January are also the months where people have the most problems with depression.

Depression is common in the United States in both men and women. It is characterized by a lack of normal motivation, excessive sleep and sad, heavy feelings. But, depression is not a disease in and of itself. Depression is a symptom that has multiple causes. And correctly determining the cause of one's depression is the key to overcoming it.

Depression can arise from low levels of serotonin and dopamine in the brain, low thyroid, imbalances in reproductive hormones (estrogen, progesterone and testosterone), intestinal inflammation, liver stagnation, sadness and grief and anxiety or stress. The remedies that will help bring your system back in balance depend on the underlying cause.

Learn how to overcome depression holistically at this month's LIVE Healthy Habits class on Saturday, December 12th at 9:00 a.m. Cost: Christmas Special $5/person. Class includes: one-hour class with handouts. Special Aromatherapy Gift Bar after class. Create affordable Custom Blends and lift the spirits of those on your gift list. Register early as space is limited, call (575) 745-1673 or email enchantedherbpantry@yahoo.com.

Coming Next Month

Learn how to build your immune system to avoid catching whatever "bug" is going around. Don't buy into the fear created by the media about contagious diseases. Attend next month's Healthy Habits Class and learn how to create a healthy immune system and implement basic practices that will protect you from contagious diseases naturally. Then you, too, won't need to be afraid of the big, bad flu or whatever other contagious disease is "going around."
